UREACH TECHNOLOGIES AND CANTATA TECHNOLOGY TO DEMONSTRATE sayTEXT™ AUDIO SMS AT SPRING VON CONFERENCE

- Cantata and uReach Deliver Advanced Converged Messaging Applications -

San Jose, Calif. - VON Spring 2006 – March 15, 2006 - uReach Technologies (www.ureach.com), the leading supplier of converged messaging and calling applications for mobile, fixed-line and broadband providers, and Cantata Technology (www.cantata.com), the world's leading independent provider of enabling communications technology, announced that the companies will jointly demonstrate at Spring VON 2006 sayTEXT™ Audio SMS – a powerful new application that allows mobile users to send personalized and pre-recorded audio clips to each other using SMS. By eliminating the need to type, sayTEXT makes text messaging much easier on the go. The demonstrations will occur at the Cantata exhibit booth #425 and the uReach Technologies booth #1825 from March 15 - 17, 2006.

Cantata Technology was established in 2006 through the combination of Excel Switching Corporation and Brooktrout Technology. The sayTEXT Audio SMS application is a result of a collaborative relationship between Cantata and uReach, whose joint solutions operate at service providers around the world such as Verizon, Embratel, and Hawaiian Telecom. The partnership continues to deliver a compelling suite of services designed to drive both data and voice revenues for the service provider.

"uReach Technologies is a great example of a forward-thinking company that truly is at the cutting edge of mobility," said Bill Kelly, Director of the Cantata Partner Program. "The SnowShore IP Media Server offers the industry's most advanced IP-based software architecture, accelerating deployment of a new generation of media-rich, high-value enhanced video and speech driven services such as the sayTEXT service."

Pulver.com's VON Spring 2006, March 14 – 17, 2006 is located at the San Jose Convention Center. Spring VON 2006 is the leading conference and exhibition for the IP communications industry and is attended by carriers, service providers, mobile operators and vendors.
